Description

Performance & Efficiency Equipped with a 2.0-litre twin-turbo diesel engine delivering 154 kW and 500 Nm, paired with a 10-speed automatic transmission, it offers a smooth and responsive driving experience. Real-world fuel consumption averages around 9.4 L/100 km, balancing power with efficiency . Interior & Features The cabin boasts high-quality materials, including soft-touch surfaces and yellow stitching. A 12-inch SYNC 4A touchscreen infotainment system supports wireless Apple CarPlay and Android Auto, complemented by wireless charging. Physical climate control buttons enhance usability . Comfort & Handling Despite its rear leaf spring suspension, the Ranger delivers a comfortable ride with minimal road and wind noise. Its electric power steering provides a confident feel, and the all-disc brakes ensure responsive stopping power . Verdict The Ranger Wildtrak 4x2 2.0 Bi-Turbo offers a compelling mix of performance, comfort, and technology, making it an excellent choice for those seeking a premium yet practical pickup.
